Bro. Edward Schreiner has not been so well for the past two weeks. He has asked a release of two months from the pulpit at High View. Bro. House filled the pulpit there last Sunday.
A large number of folks in the community are sick with flu. Don Tamplin has pneumonia. Marshall Lloyd Roberts has scarlet fever. Harold Ray Bae is also sick.
The High View P. T. A. held their meeting last Friday night, observing "Founders Day" and "Dad's Night" combined. A nice crowd was present and all enjoyed the program. The next meeting will be held on April 10 and will be the election of officers. Each mother is urged to be present.
Bro. and Mrs. Don Koehler spent the day Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Stairs of Middletown. Carolyn Baer spent the week-end in the city with her aunt, Mrs. Adele Boehler.
Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Headen have his brother and family from a Virginia staying with them for a while. These folks have come to make their home at St. Matthews and are waiting for possession of a home they bought there.

Auto Is Set Aflame After Boys Strike Second Car And Five
CHICAGO. — Two youths who abandoned an automobile after they had advised another car apparently returned and set their vehicle on fire, police said.
The car driven by the youths was a 1946 Ford, owned by Donald and Raymond Pniwski. The Pniwskis told police that after a chase, the youths were cornered.
There the youths offered to pay for the damage, saying that they would get the money from a nearby apartment where they lived. They disappeared.
When the Pniwskis reported the incident to the police, they learned that the car had been set afire. The auto was registered to Edward J. Jensen of Fox Lake.

Child Sees Dad Kill Mother; Beer Bottle Used as Bludgeon
HOWELL, NICH. — Sheriff's deputies said Almon Brewer confessed that he bludgeoned his pretty young wife to death with a beer bottle while their 3-year-old son looked on.
They said Brewer told them he beat his wife savagely on the forehead during a quarrel. Then, according to the confession, he sat beside the body with his young son for more than four hours and tried to "think my way out of it."
The Brewer's nearest neighbor is about half a mile away.
The couple had been married for six years and had lived in the cabin three years. Brewer, 41, is a painter and tree sprayer.

Ways To Obtain Big Corn Yield
"High yields per acre on fewer acres of land" is the slogan of most Kentucky farmers, says the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association, in its certified seed directory.
"To make high yields, there are at least three essentials—good soil, good seed, and a good season. The farmer can control two of these.
"A good soil for corn should be well drained, sweet and well supplied with nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and other essential plant foods."
"The best corn adapted in Kentucky is a Kentucky certified hybrid. Good seasons are not under our control, but proper fertilization and Kentucky certified hybrids are the best insurance for making a good crop in a poor season."
"On most soils in Kentucky liberal applications of a good mixed fertilizer, such as 6-8-6, drive large increases in yield. Applications of less than 400 pounds per acre may be used at the seed. Application at higher rates should be partly applied at the time of plowing or before planting, and partly at the row. Many yields of 100 bushels or more are now being recorded as a result of proper fertilization and use of Kentucky certified hybrid seed."

Opportunity Knocks
There is a familiar proverb to the effect that opportunity knocks every man's door once, but only once, but it is not always heard. For instance, a Nottingham plumber submitted to the British War Office, in 1911, a design for a tank, then an unknown military device, and across the drawing, in red ink, was written the official comment: "The man is mad!" When George Westinghouse had perfected his airbrake, in 1875, he offered it to Commodore Vanderbilt, but the railroad magnate returned Westinghouse's letter, with these words scribbled across the bottom: "I have no time to waste on fools." One day a stranger approached Mark Twain with a request for $500, for which he would sell Twain's invention, but Twain, "stung" several times before, refused the offer. From courtesy he asked the stranger his name. "Bell," the man replied as he turned away. "Alexander Graham Bell?" It wasn't a stranger who approached Sir Arthur Conan Doyle with a proposition. A young actor playing in one of Doyle's productions, he suggested that he and the writer agree to divide their incomes with an understanding that if either died, the other for the rest of their lives, Doyle laughed heartily. "Charlie Chaplin," he said. "If I didn't know you were joking, I'd have you fired for such audacity!"

High View News
By Mrs. Joe Baer
If the ceiling in your house is insulated, keep the ventilators or louvers of the attic open during the winter months. Otherwise, frost will gather on the rafters and then when the weather warms up this frost will melt and the water will damage the walls in the rooms below. Before the ceiling is insulated, enough heat goes up to keep large amounts of frost from forming. After insulation, frost forms easily. With the ceiling insulated, open ventilators act to eliminate the frost just as an open side window in your car will keep the frost off the cold windshield. Inspect your attic after severe snowstorms as snow may be driven through the ventilators by strong winds. Burial or thin masses, in, nailed over the ventilators, will help hold the snow out.

Alky Resins
Alkyd resins enjoy the unique distinction of probably being the only class of synthetic resins that are strong in the field of plastics, and have been used in protective coatings since about the middle 1920s. One of their first important uses was in speciality coatings for refineries—glazing while finishes highly resistant to abrasion, chipping, and staining or softening by food acids.

Here, Natsushiro Tadamasa, an advocate for the more modern government, addresses throngs as they pass a Tokyo corner in effort to convince them to vote down the emperor and cabinet members. Hirohito already has denied his divinity.

H. C. Gruber Buried At Shelbyville Monday

The remains of Henry Calvin Gruber were laid to rest in Grove Hill Cemetery, Shelbyville, Monday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted from the Odd Fellows Home at Eminence, where Mr. Gruber had made his home for the past two years. His death occurred at the home March 16, following an illness of three days.

A native of Shelby County, Mr. Gruber was in his 70s. He lived in Jeffersonton for a number of years. It was here that his wife died several years ago.

In his early life he was an architect and builder at Shelbyville, where he designed and built many outstanding structures of that city. While residing in Jeffersonton, although having previously retired, Gruber designed several of the main buildings on the Public Square, among which were the Shackelton Building and the Myers' Funeral Home.

While at Jeffersonton, Gruber served on the Town Council for several years. He was an outstanding, public-spirited citizen who stood high in the ranks of the Odd Fellowship of Kentucky. He had been a member of the Methodist Church for 25 years.

Survivors include a daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Lewis Gruber, Louisville; two granddaughters, Mrs. R. F. Roston, Newburgh, Ind., and Miss Mittie Gruber, and two great-granddaughters.

Provision Asked For Future Play Areas

Looking toward a program of better facilitated community recreation in the rural and suburban sections of the County, Charles Vetterlin, County recreation director, put before the Planning and Zoning Commission a request for areas, set aside expressly for recreation. Vetterlin's request for such approvals of future developments.

In connection with the County Board's request for a planning body, A. R. Giles, State director of recreation, presented a movie which emphasized needs for adequate play areas.

Vetterlin emphasized the importance of making provision for playgrounds, "as we go, rather than to seek them later."

The State director showed the movie Tuesday afternoon at the "Play Party" of the Preston Highway Improvement Club at Okonoko school.

The Planning and Zoning Commission received an application from the Camp Taylor Volunteer Fire Department to erect a fire station at Sherman and Lincoln Avenues.

Mrs. White To Entertain Current Events Club

The Jeffersonton Current Events Club will meet Friday, March 28, at 11 a. m. at the home of Mrs. I. C. White, Jr., at 1000 E. F. Clagett home. The business session will be held in the morning followed by lunch at the home.

The program will consist of a reading on "Public Health in Kentucky," by Mrs. James G. Cracker; a book review by Mrs. A. W. Wigginton and a continuation of the discussion on "Proposed Changes in the Constitution."

JEFFERSONTOWN C. E.

The Jeffersonton Christian Endeavor will hold their regular Sunday evening service, March 23, at the home of the president, Miss Joy Kealey, who is confined to her bed following a recent accident.

The program, "Christ's Sacrifice For Me," will be under the leadership of Miss Jean Lovett, with various members of the society taking part.

The young people will go to the home of Miss Kealey in a bus meeting at 8 a. m. at the home of Mrs. T. R. Jones at 615. A good attendance is urged.

Advance Seat Sale Heavy For Parkway Opener

Despite a heavy advance sale, which is running considerably ahead of last year, Fred E. Grimm, secretary of the Louisville Base Ball Club, said today that there are still many desirable seats to be had for the opener with the Columbus Red Birds on the night of April 22 at Parkway Field.

Construction of individual box seats is now completed, and will see the seating capacity near the 15,000 mark. These additional seats, combined with the grandstand, which will be reserved entirely, should offer adequate facilities to take care of all the opening game patrons.

Grimm also stated that it is in excess of 125 cents for seats for the three exhibition days, slated for April 11, 12 and 13, and are, in addition, Parkway Field will play host to a huge assemblage of Colonial fans before the season's official introduction.

"HI COACH"

Little boys in Japan are being coached on how to play some of America's leading sports. While just five years ago their older brothers were learning to play baseball, today they are learning to play basketball, football, and other sports.

Their younger brothers are getting a better break. They are learning to play basketball, football, and other sports. The older boys are learning to play basketball, football, and other sports.

They no longer have to fear the American soldier, formerly spoke of over there as the "Yankee Devil." They have grown quite fond of "Bob Jones," and many more like him.

"Bob Jones" is a regular Army man. He represents an "American kid" and understands. Understanding is the heart of friendship, and friendship is the not-so-small beginning of peace.

"Bob Jones" has met one of one of thousands who have re-elected or enlisted into our new peace Army. Yes, your Army, an Army of intelligent, trained, well-paid young men.

America needs a strong Army in order to maintain a peaceful America in order to keep up and carry out the plan to bring Democracy to Japan.

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS

By J. E. Jones
Washington, D. C., March 17.—The big boom in labor union strikes began with the New Deal doubling in 1933 to a previous all-time high of 841 strikes in 1935.

At the end of 1946 there were more than 4,000,000 workers on strike. Within a few weeks after the present Congress in Washington, D. C., the movement came to grips with John L. Lewis.

President Truman and the Congress have been dealing with the designs in front of Lewis, Murray Green and lesser labor leaders. The United Mine Workers through the courts, so that Lewis left no doubt but what he was the boss and had reached the end of their rope.

The bitter fight on David Lillien, that he must "see red."

Of course that was getting pretty far in view of the fact that the New Deal was four elections with the author of the New Deal as their candidate.

But, it is now perfectly plain that the labor leaders are going to be made to behave, and the New Deal has won out of its trial-run.

The Washington correspondent of the Jeffersonian never has pretended to be a prophet, but he does claim to know the ropes, as a result of long years as an active editor and reporter; therefore, he observes that all the signs point in the direction of a return to the Free Enterprise System.

This opinion is based on the attitude of the people who own this national government, the people voted against the New Deal and labor bosses in the elections last November.

The American people are good people, and they are overworked on war and so-called economic control and more free enterprise.

They know that this country of ours needs less Federal control and more free enterprise. They know that this country of ours needs less Federal control and more free enterprise.

Go-To-Sunday-School Day To Be May 4

The Central Committee of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, at its recent meeting, designated Sunday, May 4, as Go-To-Sunday-School Day.

This will be the thirty-third observance of the special day inaugurated by the late Dr. George A. Joplin for the purpose of increasing the enrollment and attendance in the Sunday schools of Kentucky.

Sunday school leaders are urged to map out their general promotional drive during April. The Kentucky Sunday School Association will furnish advertising suggestions.

May 4 will also mark the opening of National Family Week in Kentucky and throughout the nation. The press, radio and other publicity channels will be called throughout the week to call attention to the importance of family life. Every church and community is invited to participate.

Federal Services Sunday For James Malzer

Funeral services for James Malzer were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from Myers Funeral Home at 930 W. Main Street, where the burial was held.

Mr. Malzer, who made his home with a son, Buford Malzer, and family, died Thursday, March 13, at the residence of the word "freedom."

He was 60 years old. He had been in failing health for about two years. Besides Buford Malzer, he also leaves two sons, Theodore and Raymond Malzer; three grandchildren, Mrs. Dorothy Havden, Miss Ruth Malzer and Miss Virginia Malzer; two great-grandchildren, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mrs. Lora Smith.

TOWN IS OVERUN BY THE DOGS

Jeffersonton is beset with dogs. Yes, common curs mostly, far too many, in proportion to the number of people. They are in droves, up and down Main Street, through the alleys and across private property, by the scores.

The Town Council, whose members usually are in a good mood when dealing with the human element, now have in the dogs a new problem.

Mr. and Mrs. Weller Married Fifty Years

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Weller, Hikes Point, have been extending the couple congratulations on 50 years of married life together. Mr. and Mrs. Weller were married in Louisville March 14, 1897.

Although, due to illness in the family, there was no special celebration to mark the 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Weller have received many cards and expressions from a host of friends who wish them many more happy years of married life. Commemorative gifts were given them by their friends they expressed grateful appreciation for the many kind remembrances.

Mr. Weller, always in a jovial mood, speaking of the good things which had come their way, said, "We have three sons and six daughters; three sons-in-law and three daughters-in-law; six grandchildren, three of whom are girls and three boys. To that he added, 'I am three years older than Mrs. Weller, but three days older than Mom.'"

HOMEMAKERS

The Jeffersonton Homemakers Club, which was organized by Mrs. Roy Brentling, Tuesday, March 18.

The first aid lesson, given by Mr. Crank of the American Red Cross, was on "Poisons and Bone Injuries." The landscaping lesson, read by Mrs. Finn, dealt with sowing flower seeds, care of vines and flowering trees, and care of the lawn.

After a short business meeting conducted by the president, all enjoyed a delicious luncheon served by the hostess.

The literature chairman, Mrs. L. R. Magruder, reviewed Jesse James as a home best seller, "Taps for Private Turkey."

Miss Evans, the Home Demonstration Agent, told of some fine work being done by the W.A.A. and the need for more members who would interest in buying them.

The major project, "Window Treatment," was presented by Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Priest. They described different types of curtains and gave a number of suggestions which should be helpful in decorating the windows in our homes.

The Cedar Creek Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Helen Hagan, with Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson as co-hostess. A contest of curtains and gave a number of suggestions which should be helpful in decorating the windows in our homes.

On February 28 a group from our club met at the home of Mrs. Monroe Richman and made 24 new garments for the children at Sunshine Lodge. Mrs. Carter Fields told the new garments and also some used clothing to Sunshine Lodge on March 14—Mrs. J. Williams, Jr., Publicity Chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Weller Married Fifty Years

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Weller, Hikes Point, have been extending the couple congratulations on 50 years of married life together. Mr. and Mrs. Weller were married in Louisville March 14, 1897.

Although, due to illness in the family, there was no special celebration to mark the 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Weller have received many cards and expressions from a host of friends who wish them many more happy years of married life. Commemorative gifts were given them by their friends they expressed grateful appreciation for the many kind remembrances.

Mr. Weller, always in a jovial mood, speaking of the good things which had come their way, said, "We have three sons and six daughters; three sons-in-law and three daughters-in-law; six grandchildren, three of whom are girls and three boys. To that he added, 'I am three years older than Mrs. Weller, but three days older than Mom.'"

HOMEMAKERS

The Jeffersonton Homemakers Club, which was organized by Mrs. Roy Brentling, Tuesday, March 18.

The first aid lesson, given by Mr. Crank of the American Red Cross, was on "Poisons and Bone Injuries." The landscaping lesson, read by Mrs. Finn, dealt with sowing flower seeds, care of vines and flowering trees, and care of the lawn.

After a short business meeting conducted by the president, all enjoyed a delicious luncheon served by the hostess.

The literature chairman, Mrs. L. R. Magruder, reviewed Jesse James as a home best seller, "Taps for Private Turkey."

Miss Evans, the Home Demonstration Agent, told of some fine work being done by the W.A.A. and the need for more members who would interest in buying them.

The major project, "Window Treatment," was presented by Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Priest. They described different types of curtains and gave a number of suggestions which should be helpful in decorating the windows in our homes.

The Cedar Creek Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Helen Hagan, with Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson as co-hostess. A contest of curtains and gave a number of suggestions which should be helpful in decorating the windows in our homes.

On February 28 a group from our club met at the home of Mrs. Monroe Richman and made 24 new garments for the children at Sunshine Lodge. Mrs. Carter Fields told the new garments and also some used clothing to Sunshine Lodge on March 14—Mrs. J. Williams, Jr., Publicity Chairman.

Soils Clinic Announced For March 27

Farmers Invited To Take Samples To County Agents' Office For Analysis.

A soils clinic is to be held in the county agent's office, 437 Federal Building, Thursday, March 27, from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

C. Jones, field agent in soils from the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, will be present to test soil samples and discuss proper fertilization of these soils for crop production.

S. W. Anderson, county agent, announcing the clinic said, "any farmer who is interested in discussing his problems in the use of fertilizer for most economical production may bring a sample of his soil to this clinic. Analysis will be made to determine the need for various lime and the amount of phosphate and potash in the soil. These conditions, as shown by the test, are given as a guide in the selection of the analysis and rate of application of the fertilizer to be used."

All who are interested in this work are invited to come to the clinic on Thursday afternoon. For any additional information, farmers should call Mr. Anderson's office, Wabash 8636.

will become infected and a poor crop of apples is the result. Knowing when this organism will be mature makes it possible to spray and get the best results.

The codling moth is controlled most effectively by having the proper insecticide on the young fruit before the young worms (larvae) begin feeding. This insecticide is used to spray when to expect larvae to begin feeding in the orchard.

Over 1,000 codling moths in the pupa stage have recently been placed in a cage in a local orchard, the county agents said. When warm weather is here to stay, they will begin to emerge from the insulated winter quarters as an adult moth.

Moths in the adult stage are soon ready to lay eggs. These eggs will hatch in eight to ten days. Any time before the highest number of eggs hatch is the time to put the insecticide on the young apples.

Adult moths, which have emerged, will be hatched and destroyed each morning. About eight to ten days after the peak rate of emergence has been reached is usually when young codling moths begin feeding in the highest numbers in the orchard. This is the time to kill the worm by the use of the proper spray, point out the agents.

By a much similar process, the plum curculio can be controlled much better.

All this locally obtained information is sent to W. D. Armstrong, horticulturalist at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Princeton. There it is used together with similar information obtained from other localities to make up a "spray letter" for this locality. This letter tells when to spray.

Local fruit growers, who are not already receiving this "spray letter" may obtain copies of it at the Agricultural Extension Service office, Room 437, Federal Building, or by calling Wabash 4636 and having their names added to the mailing list.

"Tip The Floor"
Is Pig Saving Tip

The new slant on pig growing that takes advantage of the life-saving possibilities of a sloping floor in a farrowing house is attracting farmers because of the very simplicity of the plan. It is one of those "Why, didn't I think of that?" ideas, say the motley pig likes to lie down with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The nub of the idea is that a farrowing sow will usually give birth in her first days little pigs are born in their underpinning, so that if they are on a slightly sloped floor they are more likely to wander down than up. Thus they are not likely to get crushed when the sow comes back with her back to the high side.

The State Extension Service reports that records of six litters show that sloping floors reduced the death rate by crushing from one little pig in four to one pig in 30.

The Fruit and Insectary Service is now ready to swing into action, said County Agricultural Agent W. S. Anderson today.

Each year members of the staff of the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky recommend a spray schedule which tells at what stage in the growth of fruit trees they should be sprayed to control insects and disease.

The Fruit and Insectary Service supplements the spray schedule by making available to fruit growers more specific information as to the proper timing of sprays. This service is carried on by Junior County Agent R. E. Friedly and County Agricultural Agent W. S. Anderson.

Old apple leaves from local orchards are now being examined regularly to see how soon the organism which causes apple scab will be mature. When this organism matures, spores are discharged from it.

If tender new leaves and blooms of fruit trees have not been protected by the proper spray, they

Q. I have twin heifer calves. Will one of them be sterile? Is the heifer in a male-female twin combination always sterile?
A. Since sterility doesn't occur in twin heifer calves, your heifer should both be fertile for breeding purposes. The heifer of a male-female twin combination is sterile in 99% of the cases. This sterility is caused by the blood vessels of both fetal calves fusing, so that the male hormones destroy the developing female reproductive organs. In the 1% of cases where the blood vessels do not fuse, the heifer is fertile, but there is no way of determining whether or not the blood vessels have fused.

Q. I have twin heifer calves. Will one of them be sterile? Is the heifer in a male-female twin combination always sterile?
A. Since sterility doesn't occur in twin heifer calves, your heifer should both be fertile for breeding purposes. The heifer of a male-female twin combination is sterile in 99% of the cases. This sterility is caused by the blood vessels of both fetal calves fusing, so that the male hormones destroy the developing female reproductive organs. In the 1% of cases where the blood vessels do not fuse, the heifer is fertile, but there is no way of determining whether or not the blood vessels have fused.

Prizes Offered Farmers Thru Forestry Award

Women Big Stockholders In American Steel Industry
Of the 48,200 individuals holding the common and preferred stock of companies in the steel industry, 232,000 women, according to an American Iron and Steel Institute survey of companies operating 91 per cent of the nation's steel capacity. Male stockholders total 235,700 and in addition, there are 47,800 insurance, business and other groups owning a share of the industry.

Women Big Stockholders In American Steel Industry
Individual stockholders held 60.0 per cent of the industry's stock, while 9.0 per cent was held by institutions, including insurance companies, hospitals, colleges, churches, charities, foundations and estates. Other groups, including small and large businesses, investment trusts, foreign corporations, brokerage houses, and so on, held 31.0 per cent.

Insurance companies, churches, hospitals, colleges, serving millions of Americans, are largely dependent upon the income from their investments, including their holdings of shares in the steel industry. Yet, few people attending or dealing with these institutions realize the dependence upon the dividend policies of various corporations and their ability to pay interest on outstanding bonds.

Aside from this, many more persons are added or supported by estates, charities and foundations holding investments in the steel industry.

Women Control Purses In Prosperous Indian State
The Mahatma of Travancore rules an Indian state of unusual customs and advanced industrial development. The name Travancore is translated as "the place of the Goddess of Prosperity," notes the National Geographic society. The term goddess is especially appropriate because of women's favored position there.

Government is a semi-matriarchy and women are the heads of family and the custodians of the family pocketbook. They vote, hold office, and serve as teachers, lawyers and doctors. Although the official heads of state are men, succession always is through the female line. Thus the inheritance is not passed down from father to son, but "sideways" to nephews.

The present Maharaja, member of an ancient Hindu dynasty, is well endowed with titles, including His Highness, Solhan, Maharaja, Raja and a three-word combination meaning "Invincible Sword in War." His subjects number more than 6,000,000.

MISS SLICK CHICK OF 1947?

WE ARE RESENTFUL . . . Hens, resentful and envious of the "Slick Chick" designation, which with utter abandon has been bestowed upon human females, at long last have come to the fore and demanded their equal rights. The Poultry and Egg National Board, realizing the justice of their claims, is conducting a nationwide search for the most beautiful hen in all America, who will be crowned "Miss Slick Chick of 1947," and will be guest of honor at world premiere of "The Egg and I."
